Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 04 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Persistent rain developing overnight and on Tuesday and becoming windy.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered showers at first and turning chilly, especially in the north. Becoming increasingly wet overnight, as a band of locally heavy rain arrives from the south. This stalling over the region to bring a wet end to the night. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cloudy, wet and increasingly windy morning, with heavy rain possibly leading to localised flooding and transport disruption. Brightening up with sunny spells in the far west later. Feeling cool. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Less windy on Wednesday, sunshine at first, but patchy rain possible later. Breezier and cloudier on Thursday, with patchy rain. Bright on Friday after morning fog has lifted. Feeling warmer.
